

Superintendent's Report
Rye School Board Meeting
Wednesday, October 18, 2023
5:30 PM

Notes for Agenda

Outside of minutes and financials, you will need to consider an adjustment to your 2023-2024 calendar. The NH Primary voting date will likely be set soon and that would typically be a no school day for students. I would recommend we wait to set the last day of school in June until we get at least part way through the snow season.

SAU Sensation

We have published the October edition of our SAU 50 newsletter for the 2023-2024 school year. You can find it here.

Portrait of a Learner Update

We will discuss more at the Joint Board next week as we finalize our Portrait. The feedback we have received has been very constructive and there seems to be growing consensus on what to include. We have issued one final survey in the newsletter this month.

Professional Growth Committee

The PGC met last week and reviewed progress in implementing the revised Plan for Effective Teaching. The plan has received good reviews so far and building representatives will continue to get feedback throughout this year. The committee also started planning a full day of PD across the SAU for March 12th. We will be tapping into our own internal expertise across our districts to offer a variety of mini workshops to choose from. We discussed creating a frame around the day using the Portrait of a Learner and tying the offerings to different elements of the Portrait.

Secondary Advisory

We held our first Secondary Advisory meeting on October 3rd. PHS Principal Steve Chinosi and Portsmouth Superintendent Zach McLaughlin updated us on the new Student Handbook, including description of school policies, Dual Enrollment offerings, etc. While not discussed at the meeting, we have since received the 2023-2024 PHS Annual Report, which will be included in all of our district annual reports.
