

The Executive Council is made up of 5 Executive Councilors, each representing ~263,000 citizens, & are elected every two years. Among their duties, the Executive Council approves the spending of a major portion of the ~5.2 billion dollars appropriated annually by the legislature; approves the appointments of Judges, State Department Heads & Commissioners, and hears Pardon Requests; approves receipt & expenditures of state & federal funds, budgetary transfers within the department & all contracts with a value of $10,000. The Executive Council plays a vital role in improving the state's infrastructure, especially roads and bridges, via management and oversight of the state's 10 year Highway Plan (GACIT).

The primary job of a New Hampshire State Representative is to represent their constituency by voting on matters of public policy and the state budget. There is no individual authority; rather, authority rests in the actions of the entire 400-member House of Representatives. A State Representative is also a member of the County Delegation – the legislative body of each county – and thereby has responsibility for the county budget.

The New Hampshire State Senate is the upper body of the New Hampshire State Legislature. Serving the same functions as the House of Representatives, and with only 24 Senators, each member has a larger constituency than a House Member. The Senate holds impeachment trials if the House of Representatives votes to impeach a public official.
