2023 AP Cohort Data are embargoed to the public until April 4, 2023 11:59 p.m. ET

Please note your receipt of this file means you agree to honor conditions for using the data as described in the Guidelines on the Uses of College Board Test Scores and Related Data. That is, you will avoid the use of scores in aggregate form as a single measure to rank or rate teachers, educational institutions, or school districts. For more information, see: http://www.collegeboard.com/research

Data Sources:

2022-23 NCES 12th-grade district enrollment, 2023 College Board AP Cohort Data, and 2022 US Census Bureau Cartographic Boundary School District Shapefiles.

The most recent enrollment data available were for the 2022-23 school year. A degree of caution should be exercised when reviewing participation and success estimates, as data may not reflect district enrollments for the 2022-23 school year. AP cohort participation counts represent public school students from a given graduating class who took an AP Exam during high school; success counts represent public school students from a given graduating class who scored a 3 or higher on an AP Exam during high school.

Notes:

AP success data are reported when there are 5 or more AP exam takers in a district. Suppressed cases are marked by *.

A degree of caution should be exercised when reviewing estimates, as there inevitably will be a small margin of error as a result of one or many issues including but not limited to:

1) AI code, which is self-reported and reflects the school reported in the most recent test administration. (impacts the numerator, either positively or negatively)

- ---> Student misreports school code and is therefore erroneously linked or not linked to school.
- ---> Students misreports their grade-level and thus erroneously end up in the cohort. Or repeats a grade and ends up in multiple cohorts.
- ---> Student leaves school code blank and thus there is nothing to link the student to the school or any other public school in state.
- ---> If a student took an AP exam in an earlier grade, then moved but did not participate in another AP administration, s/he will still be linked to the last known school in the AP data.

2) The 2022-23 NCES 12th-grade district enrollment was used to estimate the size of the graduating class. (impacts the denominator, either positively or negatively)

- --> NCES data for the 2022-23 school year may not reflect district enrollments for the 2022-23 school year.
- ---> 12th grade enrollment as of early October may not reflect the number of students who actually graduate.
- --> If a school did not report enrollment or reported incorrectly, this could impact the overall denominator.

3) The manner in which schools are linked to districts (impacts both the numerator and denominator)

---> School-to-district mappings in the AP Cohort Data maps are based on the NCES (i.e., federal) mapping, which stem from information provided annually to the NCES by the state DOEs through the Common Core of Data (CCD) survey. States may or may not link charter schools to local districts.

4) The manner in which districts are linked to the state map (impacts whether certain districts, and therefore schools/students, are included in the final map and raw data file) --> The school-district boundary files used to create the heat maps are created by an external company, Proximity. These files are updated every two years or so. If a district does not exist in Proximity's files, then it cannot be drawn on the map. If districts recently merged or separated, this may not be reflected in Proximity's files for another few years.
